

Communicating with Your Legislators: A Handy Primer

Writing Your Legislator

1. Write your own senator or delegate.
2. Write when it is practical.
3. Be courteous and identify yourself as a midwife or a consumer of midwifery, and as a constituent. Give your full address.
4. Whenever possible, identify bills by number. Otherwise, clearly describe the measure.
5. Be informed about the issue and then write your own views/opinions from personal knowledge or experience. Form letters do not get the attention of the legislator.
6. Focus on one issue. Be brief but write enough to be clear. Give reasons for your position. Avoid professional jargon.
7. Ask questions that require a response.
8. Check spelling and grammar! A letter from a professional is expected to be free of careless errors and sloppy sentence and paragraph structure.
9. Write legislators when they do something you approve of, even if just a simple thank-you.
10. Do not threaten legislators or pretend to wield vast political influence. Do not try to instruct your legislator on every issue that comes up.
